Drive. Ideate. Venture. Engage.

PMINAC welcomes the participation of students at the 2019 Conference as it is rich with educational and networking opportunities that will allow students to expand their knowledge base and professional network. As the Chapter continues to expand, efforts to support the growth of its membership through the development of students and future members has become a key objective.

The Emerging PM Scholarship Program is seeking support through contributions from members, industry professionals, conference attendees, partners and sponsors, to provide students with the opportunity to attend the Conference at a subsidized rate. Your contribution will go towards a one-day or two-day Student Pass, providing access to all aspects of the conference, including opportunities to network with industry professionals. This is your chance to make a difference in the future of project management!
